

WESTON CENTER for the PERFORMING ARTS

GIVE BOLDLY | INSPIRE SUCCESS

Arts play a vital role in communities across the globe. The arts unite us, inspire us and help us to imagine the unimaginable. They connect us to the past, present and future by telling stories and transporting us to different places and cultures while sometimes allowing us to see ourselves through a different lens.

TLU students, professors and alumni play a vital role in this journey. Across the country, they share their talents and become advocates and ambassadors for the value of the arts in education and the vitality of their own communities. Our alumni are noted for their outstanding artistry and teaching, and many have gone on to pursue successful careers in music, theatre, and education.

While Jackson Auditorium has been home to hundreds of arts and cultural events over the years, the need for additional space and technology to expand and enhance our current music and theatre programs has become more urgent and apparent than ever before.

To say that we have outgrown our current performing arts facilities would be an understatement. Jackson Auditorium and Schuech Fine Arts Center are doing double-duty, accommodating twice the students they were designed to handle. It's affecting our ability to attract top quality students and limits our ability to grow. It's time for bold measures.

GIVE BOLDLY

The early support for the new $15 million Caroline M. Weston Center for the Performing Arts has been "bold and inspiring," thus far exceeding $12 million for TLU's Campaign for the Arts. Our goal is to build upon these foundational gifts and complete the campaign with another $3 million in 2017-2018.

SCHOOL OF MUSIC students and alumni can attest to the impact the TLU music faculty have had on their lives. That bond speaks to the universal language of music and how it can transcend cultural, linguistic, and physical borders throughout their lives. School of Music Director Douglas Boyer and Director of Bands Beth Bronk, with the support of our dedicated and talented music faculty and instructors, are the inspiration that fuels our students' success.

Your giving at any of three levels—Visionary, Patron, and Friend—will provide the means to build a new School of Music facility and Dramatic Media studio theatre, and complete the transformation of Jackson Auditorium into a state-of-the-art performing arts center. A suite of expanded rehearsal spaces and practice rooms, dedicated classrooms, and faculty offices will serve to further teaching and learning excellence.

The Caroline M. Weston Center for the Performing Arts is an investment in our future that will live on through the lives of our alumni and generations they inspire. Give now. Let your boldness be their springboard to greatness.

To learn more about how to support this transformational project, please visit tlu.edu/westoncenter or call 830.372.8030.

THE NEW WESTON CENTER

- ◆ 6,200 square foot "black box" or studio theatre (August 2017)
- ◆ Flexible live theatre and video production space
- ◆ Additional dressing room and green room space
- ◆ 32,000 square foot two-story School of Music building (December 2017)
- ◆ Band, Choir, and Ensemble Rehearsal Halls
- ◆ Faculty offices, studio, and classroom space
- ◆ Individual student practice rooms
- ◆ Renovation of the first and second floor lobbies of Jackson Auditorium (March 2017)

YOUR GIVING WILL BE AN INSPIRATION TO ALL TO SUCCEED. NOW AND FOR GENERATIONS TO COME.

DRAMATIC MEDIA is the change agent that enables students to challenge the status quo. As art form and craft, it is the penultimate inspiration for communicating and translating ideas and opening the door for learning, understanding, and expressing the human condition. Professors David Legore and Shannon Ivey lead and inspire as students define their future.

TEXAS LUTHERAN UNIVERSITY

WESTON CENTER

for the PERFORMING ARTS

CHRISTIANSSEN CHORAL REHEARSAL HALL

BILL "SUNNY" SNECKNER SCHOOL OF MUSIC LOBBY

FRED AND NANCY CARNEY STUDIO THEATRE LOBBY

STUDIO THEATRE

SUPPORT the WESTON CENTER

for the Performing Arts

Join us in continuing the legacy and tradition that is TLU Performing Arts. Your generous gift will be both instrumental and inspirational in our ability to provide the highest quality educational and cultural experience for our students, community, and region.

We extend our sincere gratitude and appreciation to the Weston family, Bob and Karin Oliver, the Dian Graves Foundation, Barbara and Marvin Rush/Rush Enterprises, the estate of Werner Teggemann '35, and the estate of John A. Jackson for their foundational gifts that have made the Caroline M. Weston Center for the Performing Arts a reality.

GIVE BOLDLY. INSPIRE SUCCESS AT EVERY LEVEL.

VISIONARY	Caroline M. Weston Center for the Performing Arts	$5 Million FUNDED
	School of Music	$3 Million
	Studio Theatre	$2 Million
	Christiansen Choral Rehearsal Hall	$1 Million FUNDED
	Band Hall	$1 Million
PATRON	Percussion Ensemble Hall	$500,000
	Bill "Sunny" Sneckner School of Music Lobby	$500,000 FUNDED
	School of Music Courtyard	$500,000
	Strings Rehearsal Hall	$300,000
	Fred and Nancy Carney Studio Theatre Lobby	$200,000 FUNDED
	School of Music Technology Lab	$100,000
	Harold, Eleanor, and William Dierks School of Music Office Suite	$100,000 FUNDED
FRIEND*	Studio Theatre Media Room	$100,000
	Sectional Rehearsal Rooms	2 $50,000
	Faculty Offices	14 $25,000
	School of Music Practice Rooms	22 $10,000
	Studio Theatre Dressing Rooms	4 $10,000
Studio Theatre Seats	100 $1,000

Commitments can be made over a three to five-year period. Visit tlu.edu/westoncenter.

*Friend level offers multiple giving opportunities. Donations shown are per room or office.

www.tlu.edu • 1000 West Court Street • Seguin, Texas 78155 • 830.372.8030